The 16 October 2024 meeting of the Falls City Mustang Club was called to order with the sound of the golden gavel by President Kevin Liebert. Kevin thanked those that chose to attend this monthly meeting. Marty Clegg, Sec/Treasurer, reported on the club finances along with distributing copy of the treasurer's report to everyone. Scott McGloshen representing the 'Mustang News and Stuff' committee handed out the latest edition of the 'Mustang News and Stuff' with news about the GT500 Code Red. And of course a very wise quote from Henry Ford was included. The MCA Regional Director, Kamos Glover, was out of town so no MCA news was available. Brenda Clegg, Membership Chairperson, announced a new membership, Cindy and Kevin Taylor of Bardstown, Kentucky who own a 2024 Dark Horse. Kevin reported of a number of recent car shows attended by FCMC members to include the Hoosier Mustang Club annual Fall Fest show, a show at Lanesville, a regional Mustang show hosted by the Music City Mustang Club and most recently the Derby City Mustang Club Fordfest. A number of upcoming car shows and club outings of interest to members are Kevin and Suzie's pony trail this coming Sunday the 20th. On October 26, the FCMC will be the feature car club at Gateway Classic's Caffeine and Chrome combined with a trunk or treat for the youngsters. The same day is the Wooded Glenn car show near Henryville. November 2 is a car show in Corydon to benefit the Veterans of Harrison County then November 29 is the Black Friday car show at the Sellersburg American Legion. The following day, November 30 is the annual Jeffersonville Christmas parade that a number of FCMC members plan to participate in. Wrapping up the calendar year is the annual FCMC Christmas party on December 7; invitations will be mailed to all members soon. Well, wouldn't you know it.....no one had their lucky number drawn for the monthly cash drawing so the pot explodes to $150 for the November meeting. Dining prior to the November meeting will be at Derby City Pizza in New Albany. Being no further business the meeting was adjourned.

2024 Crusin' the Coast

October 6-12th several FCMC members traveled to Gulfport MS to attend the 2024 Crusin' the Coast along the Mississippi coastline from Pascagoula to Bay St Louis. Beautiful weather all week and lots of beautiful and not so beautiful cars, trucks and anything with wheels. The parade of Monday was great with 600 participants traveling along the parade route throwing out candy, trinkets, beads and stuffed animals. We had lots of good food all week. We met up with some of the Biloxi Mustang Club members, going out to eat at Sicily's Pizza and going to Pascagoula to hang out for their cruise-in on Friday. Some traveled back Friday so they could attend the DCMC show on Saturday, others just meandered back Saturday making it home Sunday night.

On our way to Biloxi Sunday morning, Oct. 6th

Lots of great looking rat rods

Nice looking old Bronco

Beautiful sunset over Biloxi Bay

Life size Hot Wheel

2024 Kevin & Suzie's Pony Drive

October 20th Kevin and Suzie had their annual pony drive starting in Corydon and ending up at Rough River Lodge for lunch in Falls of Rough KY. It was a gorgeous day, after starting out a bit chilly we were able to drop our tops around 11am. The buffet meal at the lodge was great everything from turkey and dressing to ice cream. Thanks for a fun drive!

Hardinsburg, KY

Stop at the Laconia General Store

Stopped at the Waterfront Park in Brandenburg, KY

Final destination is Rough River Lodge for lunch

MUSTANG NEWS and STUFF

BY: Chris Moorman & Scott McGloshen

The most powerful and fastest production Mustang ever has been confirmed with over 800 ponies and more than 200 miles an hour at full chatter. More specifically, Ford Motor Company promises 815 mechanical horses and 202 miles per hour.

Henry Ford Quote -

Coming together is the beginning.

Keeping together is progress.

Working together is success

Shelby GT500 Code Red is a world-beating monster in a straight line.

Shelby American just posted a video of this production-spec Shelby GT500 Code Red rocketing down the quarter-mile in just 8.593 seconds at 161.81 miles-per-hour.

To get that quick, Shelby American treats the Shelby GT500 Code Red to a bevy of mods, as one would imagine, most of which take place under the hood. There, the car's 5.2-liter Predator V8 gets a pair of Xona 7869S dual ball-bearing turbos, along with Tial WVS wastegates, new air filters, three-inch downpipes, headers mated to a three-inch exhaust, and ARP hardware throughout. Inside, one will find beefy Manley pistons and rods to help strengthen things up to handle copious amounts of boost.

Shelby beefs up the Code Red's cooling system in a big way as well, not to mention the fuel system, which has to provide the heavily-fortified Predator powerplant with plenty of that, as one would imagine. It's all controlled by a MoTeC M150 ECU, and owners can use the factory drive mode controls to alter output based on how they're feeling on that particular day – or, the system will adjust itself according based on what kind of fuel is in the tank.

As a result, the Shelby GT500 Code Red pumps out an astounding 1,000+ horsepower and 780 pound-feet of torque on 93 octane pump gas, or as much as 1,300 horsepower and 1,000 pound-feet on E85, though one can dial it down all the way to 650 horsepower if they don't need four digit output on that given day.

As one might imagine, there are some caveats that come with owning such an impressive machine. For starters, Shelby American only plans to build 10 Shelby GT500 Code Red models per model year, or 30 in total. The cost of those machines starts out at an eye-opening $224,995, too – not including the price of the car itself. That's a ton of coin by anyone's measure, but if you're looking for the ultimate Mustang of any kind, it'll certainly be hard to top.
